The Langley Castle E-letter

On-line booking

You can now check our availability 24 hours a day thanks to our new on-line booking system. Our technology also allows you to add those extra special touches to your stay, such as flowers and champagne in your room upon arrival. If rooms are available at special rates for selected dates that will be the rate you will be offered.

The usual channels will still be open should you wish to speak to us direct or drop us an email with your requirements.

Dear Friend,

I trust you are well and ready for summer. As always there is much happening at Langley this year. Our on-line booking system is now up and running and helps you find availability at a press of a button.

There is also much happening in our restaurant, with new menus launched and an extension planned.

Hope to see you soon.

Regards

Anton Phillips, General Manager

Restaurant extension

Due to the still increasing popularity of the Josephine restaurant, and the eight additional bedrooms added last year, Langley Castle is to extend the Josephine Restaurant with a glass pavilion.

Planning approval has now been received and work hopes to commence in November this year.

This glass walled building will be connected by a glass walkway and have a small 'moat' around to make it appear to float. Because the extension is round the side of the Castle it will not be seen from the front. The building will also have an eco. 'Living roof' with turf, so will also be invisible from above.

The room will give the restaurant an important 30 additional dining places and will also be available to private dining

New menu launch

This week the Josephine restaurant launched its new menus. Together with a new Table d'hôte menu we have now introduced a Market Menu priced at £27.50 per person. The menu will be changed daily and include 3 starter dishes and 3 main courses, the desserts will remain the same.

For further information, and to see the menus that are available click here.

Diary date

This November 21st Langley Castle will be hosting its next wedding fayre. As always exhibitors covering all aspects of your wedding day will be on hand to answer your questions and queries.

If you wish to leave any comments on a previous stay we very much welcome feedback on our Facebook page or TripAdvisor, the image will take you there direct.

Loyalty update

Langley Castle has improved the Loyalty Plus card scheme this year for regular customers of the restaurant and hotel.

Points are gained on every visit and can be claimed back against many of the hotels products and services.

To join, or for further information visit the loyalty page on our website.
